DESIGN CONCEPT

The concept of the reading nook is balance of the universe. The whole universe has a balance, that means the universe has been changing from the beginning of the universe. We can realize the balance of the universe through looking at raising and setting Sun, Moon eclipse, and changing position of constellation on the sky. From ancient time, people had been imagined the heaven by seeing the sky. Sun, Moon, and stars always has made us to gather up various imaginations.

I intend to make children imagine their world through Sun, Moon, and stars. I also want children understand the wild, the world and the universe.

The reading nook is located between library and primary play equipment area. It has 4 elements, reading, community, transition and viewing play.

PLAN

Reading nook is closed to school library. Children can bring some books to reading nook. They can have a different reading experience in outdoor library. This outdoor environment make children love reading or classrooms.

COMMUNITY

Reading nook is a transition area. It is a kind of a middle area between study area(library) and play area(primary play equipment area). Children can read a book or play in the built area near school

TRANSITION

Reading nook offers a view of the primary play area. A teacher and parents can watch their kid's activity. This is important thing for children's safety.

VIEWING PLAY

Reading nook offers a view of the primary play area. A teacher and parents can watch their kid's activity. This is important thing for children's safety.
